International internship program for future teachers

“AMAUTA UDEP”

FACULTY OF EDUCATION SCIENCES

“Educators committed to the integral development of people”

The Faculty of Education Sciences has 38 years of experience in the training of education professionals capable of contributing to the development and progress of society. It is committed to future teachers and practicing teachers, through a curriculum that integrates pedagogical, academic, cultural and didactic knowledge, accompanied by a solid ethical formation and values that constitute the ideology of the university.

The Amauta UDEP international program was created as an innovative proposal that offers international student teachers a practical experience that strengthens their social commitment and professional training in different contexts. The experience in teaching practice is shaped according to national standards for student teachers, to have the opportunity to participate in other teaching methodologies and areas of encounter and dialogue with different educational actors.
